Reporting and Analysis

Boost your bottom line,
business productivity and efficiency

How quickly are you able to generate important short and long-form Loss Runs, indemnity-to-expense ratio tables or physician loss history reports? Do you spend more time building frequency and severity graphs or critically analyzing specific risk initiative areas?

Trideo's claims software boosts efficiency with one-click charting, graphing and reporting capabilities that can help you control claim losses and reduce financial exposure. With Trideo, every piece of data you collect is converted into a value-added resource to enhance processes and operations. Track progress and pinpoint trends using a wealth of template and custom reports suitable for presentation at board meetings or within actuarial studies. Instantly distill mass amounts of insurance data into one easy-to-understand illustration for excess renewals and risk management programs.

In addition to standard industry reporting templates, users are empowered with the tools to easily design and save custom data reports using Trideo's ad-hoc reporting module. Integrate custom reports into your standard business processes to minimize the time it takes to complete common or recurring tasks. With Trideo, there's truly no limit to the ways in which you can present information.

Convert data into meaningful business intelligence.
